Dwelling-houses in columns 1 and 2, and Families in column 2, are to be numbered, beginning with No. 1, for the first house visited, and for the first family in that house, and with the next higher number for the next house and family visited. Inmates of a house are to be numbered in the order in which their names are written down. Persons in column 3 are to be named in the following order: 1st, the head of the family; 2d, the wife of the head of the family, if there be one; 3d, the children of the family, in the order of their births; 4th, other relatives of the head of the family; 5th, the servants of the family. Persons who have no home are to be reported with the family in which they are living on June 1, 1880. Boarders are to be reported as members of the family to which they belong, if they have no other home. Every person enumerated in this Schedule must be reported in some one of columns 9 to 13, inclusive. Column 9 is to be used for persons who are single; column 10 for persons who are married; column 11 for persons who are widowed; column 12 for persons who are divorced; and column 13 for persons married during the Census year. Column 14 is to be used for persons who have been unemployed during any part of the Census year, and the number of months they have been unemployed is to be reported. Column 15 is to be used for persons who are sick or disabled, so as to be unable to attend to their ordinary business or duties on the day the Enumerator visits their place of abode, and the sickness or disability is to be reported. Columns 16 to 20, inclusive, are to be used for persons who are blind, deaf and dumb, idiotic, insane, or maimed, crippled, bedridden, or otherwise disabled, and the affliction is to be reported. Column 21 is to be used for persons who have attended school within the Census year. Column 22 is to be used for persons who cannot read, and column 23 for persons who cannot write. Column 24 is to be used for persons born in the United States, to report the State or Territory in which their birthplace is situated; and for persons born in foreign countries, to report the country of their birth. Columns 25 and 26 are to be used for persons born in the United States, to report the State or Territory in which the birthplace of their father and mother, respectively, is situated; and for persons born in foreign countries, to report the country of birth of their father and mother, respectively.
